Commentary
 KSE 100 index closed at 7162 points which is 122 points below the close in May. Announcement of the budget for the new financial year is expected to bring more clarity in the minds of the investors regarding risk/ return profiles of future investment propositions. Therefore further improvements in the equity market are expected. The impact of imposition of carbon surcharge on oil products and Federal Excise Duty on stock trading announced in the recent budget would be ascertained upon its implementation.

6 month KIBOR rates closed at 12.76% which is around 100 bps below the rate at the close of May 2009. The possibility of interest rate cuts by the State Bank are high which is expected to reduce the KIBOR rate too.
